- ① This is one of my favorite classes because you are a very good teacher. I learn in this class and memorize in others. I try to come to school every day for this class. Rwanda was my favorite lesson, Africa was my favorite Unit. I like how if someone is late you don't hassle them but you still ~~to~~ explain what we are doing.
Overall A++
- ② When you were the European and we were the African tribes. That was fun and I still learned from it.
- ③ Challenges - I have to study in this class or I have no clue what's going on. Other classes I either don't have to study or even if I do I'm still confused.
- ④ I like things just the way they are because even if we get side tracked you know how to explain things in a way that I can understand.
- ⑤ I've done my best in all my classes and really put in the effort this trimester. I am very proud of what I've done so far and I'm going to continue to do my best throughout my years in high school.

- ⑥ Then I thought of Africa as dirty and as a place that I never went to go, and I thought of the US as the best place. Now I think of other countries as beautiful and unique in their own ways, and I've come to realize that the US has done some bad things and other countries can be just as beautiful.
- ⑦ The Final, I stayed up all night reading the book and writing notes, remembering past Units
- ⑧ I think I got the grade that I deserved and worked for (B) because I studied but didn't do a lot of homework. I don't think I really influenced this class, all that much but if I did I think/hope it was positive. Participation - B-

- ① I enjoyed Africa alot just because I got to learn how it actually is there. I liked all of the lessons it put a whole different view in my mind. I liked how you explained things and explained it in different ways for us to understand better. I think that all the lectures are great but some could be a little bit shortened because that was $\frac{3}{4}$ of my notebook just in notes. You have an A.
- ② I will for sure take the east Asia lesson because it has a huge impact with North and South Korea.
- ③ I don't really have any challenges. I think since everything was explained so well then I got it, my other classes don't get explained as much.
- ④ I liked things the way they were mostly because everything was neatly explained, the notes I understood instead of just writing them down, all of the videos I got into because I knew what was going on and I enjoyed it. One thing maybe would be to just to shorten the amount of notes by just a tad because there were so many but they did help by alot.
- ⑤ I think that I did good this tri. I mean I didn't get the best grade on somethings but I feel like I kept up on the work the best I could and I understood everything way more in every class than I did last tri, last tri.

I had some C's and then A's + B's but I was not proud of that because I could have worked harder, so then I just told myself that I was going to pay attention more and get better grades and I did and I'm proud of that.

(6) I don't think the same at all for sure, I came into high school thinking that everyone loved me, but not a lot of people did, so learning to calm down I did and I worked on my attitude and became a lot nicer and turns out that's how you bring people in. I finally have figured out that I need to focus on school and not worry about the people who don't like me and so I did and it worked, a lot.

(7) This final I think was the hardest I've worked in a while, I wanted to improve and show how much I've worked and actually payed attention. I wanted to make my final grade stay the same or improve so I'm good with my grade just staying the same.

(8) I personally thought that I should have gotten an A but I am OK with a B. I think that I worked really hard in this class more than any of my other ones. I payed attention and actually enjoyed what I learned so that's an improvement for me. I had a positive influence this whole time I'm so glad that the stuff actually got explained. Participation I think that I got an A+.

① Personally, I really enjoyed this class as it was engaging and Mr. Fiske made it fun. My favourite lessons were the ones where we had students rule the class. When we had the oligarchy and dictatorship, I thoroughly enjoyed that as I felt like the students had a say in the class and weren't just TOLD what to do by my opinion. I think you did really well as a teacher and I also really liked some of your sarcasm and funny jibes at people as it made me laugh. You added a fun aspect to the class and captivated my attention. Even with lecture notes. Some things that could use a little work is textbook work. Personally, I think writing down notes from an outdated textbook is relatively stupid and would much rather have a lecture in class about it then list off old information from a book. You get an A.

③ Some of the challenges I faced in this class were relearning some of the things I'd learnt in England and learning about the geographical background of religions instead of just what they are and what each religions views are. These challenges are similar to my other classes because I learnt so much in England and now I'm relearning them here.

④ I think that there should be more positive comments as it brings the class closer together and energizes people. Other than that, I really enjoyed this class because you added a twist to it. You made the classes fun and have made me hopeful that I get you as a teacher again.

- ⑤ I don't think I was doing my best at the start because I was still relatively new and my first global studies teacher wasn't that great. I'm relatively proud of my performance but I think if I hadn't missed so much school and hadn't procrastinated so much at home, I would have done better. This trimester has improved my actions greatly as I now have more confidence and I try harder in my classes and I actually give the teachers a chance.
- ⑥ At the start of the trimester I saw this school as new, big and absolutely terrifying. I was shy and isolated myself from everything. You engaged me in the class and from that, I gained a bunch of confidence in myself and my intelligence. I see that not everyone is completely awful and there are people that are actually really nice. There's not as much to be afraid of anymore. I still sometimes don't feel like I fit in but I remember the start of the trimester compared to now and remember that it's okay.
- ⑦ I think the test I worked hardest on was the religious test because I find religions very fascinating and love their history and the meaning and traditions of them. Anything I find interesting, I try harder in.
- ⑧ I think the grade I have currently is a good grade for me, considering how many days I was actually here. My participation was okay in my opinion. I could add my own insight into things I'd learnt and how it differed from my previous schooling in England. I don't know what kind of influence I was on the class, you'd have to ask them. My participation grade would be A-.

① I feel that I really enjoyed the lessons. The lessons helped all of the students interact. My favorite lesson was the Guns, Germs, and Steel lesson. I enjoyed it because it was a fun way to learn about what colonists did to Africa. There are many things that you did well. They are that you would teach the lectures so well that all the information would stick to the brain. Also the textbook notes helped develop a format of note taking that I use in other classes now. Overall I don't have many criticisms, by far you are one of my favorite teachers. I give you an A as a teacher.

② One lesson/concept I will take is the lesson about Rwanda. I will remember all of the details on how it started.

(5) I am proud of my performance throughout the trimester. I have done my best. This trimester I have performed differently than last year. All my year in elementary school my social studies grades weren't always the best. Since I have come to the high school I feel that my study habit have gotten better helping me retain more information from what I learned.

(6) Before I used to think of places like Africa to have no money at all. After going in depth I found out that there is some wealth. However Africa is still a very poor continent. This class helped break away the stereo type we make and helps see others as human beings like ourselves.

(7) I worked the hardest on the Rwanda genocide Assessment. I work the hardest because it was probably the most difficult Assessment we had all trimester.

8. I think I deserve an A because I really worked hard to learning and retaining information. I feel like I could've participated a lot more but when I did I feel that it was positive. The participation grade I give my self would be a B-.

① I enjoyed all of the lessons because they all made the class get to know each other and then everyone had more fun while doing those lessons. My favorite lesson was the Africa unit because it showed me another perspective on how we can change our ways and help those in need and stop taking away their resources. You made the class more enjoyable with each lesson and made the class want to learn. I think that there is nothing that needs to be worked on. I would give you an A. ② I will take the North Korea lesson with me because it shows that there can be fear forced by the time you are born till you die. ③ Some of the challenges that you made were: long notes, hard to sleep, not to have fun, and enjoyment of the projects. These challenges seem like that it's easy to have fun. ④ I liked the way we did things already because they were different from most things you think you would do. Like with China and North Korea we had leaders of the class who had the 5 S's which made the lessons unique and fun to do. Also when we did "Guns, Guns, Guns" it was a fun game to play. ⑤ I feel like I've tried my best to work harder and get more things done. I'm very proud of my performance throughout the trimester because I did a lot better than last trimester. I took more notes and I studied more than I ever did. ⑥ I see the world the same as I did before but it has lightened a little more. I see a few things differently than I did before. That I didn't know how lucky we were.

① compared to places like Africa or China that we are so greedy to take resources from other parts of the world when we don't need it as much. ② I worked on the final the hardest because it is the most important test of the year and it tests my learning skills more than any test. ③ I believe that I deserve a C because I did average on most things in class. I think that I didn't have much if any influence on the class because I didn't ever react or did much to effect most of the class. I think that I would get a C for my participation grade.

① Yes, this class was one of my most interactive exciting classes. Most of the lessons had something I really enjoyed. My personal favorite lesson was the Africa one when we learned about the Europeans going around the world. Heck yes, the "Kim Jong Il" and "Confidence" the Africa game all were super fun and put a much better idea of what really happened instead of just get lectures. Yes, I believe if you worked on having less lectures it'd be more interactive with the entire class.

OVERALL GRADE: A 96%

④ I think overall this class is very well designed by you. There was a very even amount of fun & hard things where we had to get something done, but we got it done. If I were to have something changed it would be getting more in depth into something like "genetics" more than in chemistry.

(5) I have put 100% into all of my classes until the very end. I didn't stop until the end. I think my grades reflected that. Yes, I'm very proud of my performance in this Tr. I really stuck it out and got good grades. This Tr. was different because last Tr. I got C's and D's and I didn't really study. But this Tr. I studied and I pulled my attitude up and followed through with my studies.

(6) No, I see the world made differently how it used to take things like CAR TRAFFIC for granted and think it was crowded in Portland but not even close. Now I know how lucky I am. Not living in really bad places like a lot of people in Africa and other places, and how lucky I am to be in a country with so much money. Some people don't even have food. I used to think that was stupid and it shouldn't be, ignored but now I see why. Because if it was ignored the poverty cycle would happen in the USA. I used to think African people were lucky because they had cool animals and warm weather but now I know it's not so cool, there is major overcrowding, starving people, Disease, uneducated people, and major poverty.

(7) In this class the fact I learned a lot but all on my own. I learned a lot about world geography. I didn't do anything but I put a lot of effort into it.

① Being as though I hated global studies last yr because my teacher was awful I really enjoyed this class. You and Mrs. Gossett by far are the best teachers I've had so far. I think your teaching style makes a lot of sense and your lectures really helped. I don't think I would have done so well had it not been for all the notes we took. I thought it was smart that you did notebook checks to entice us to do our work and your method of textbook notes really helped me get all the information. You made the lectures fun with your sarcasm. I think you really encouraged us to do our best and because of that the lowest score I ever received on a test in here was a B. Thank you.

② I think that I will remember Africa the most because for some reason I memorized most of the information. I found all of the units really interesting because you gave us additional true information about the countries that I think other teachers wouldn't have.

④ I liked things just the way they were, because I think you have great teaching skills. I liked all the additional fun things he did outside of just notes, videos and reading, like the guns, guns, guns activity or the oligarchy. I understand that some things to us may have been boring, but the information was necessary for us to fully understand the material. other teachers lectures would start to make me fall asleep and I don't remember that happening in here.

(5) 2/3 of the way done being a freshman and I can say that this tri was harder than the last but I did even better. I had harder classes, more Pre AP, and I think I did really well. The only thing I don't like is my B+ in Pre AP Bio and my A- in math. Between this class, English, and Biology I had a ton of writing and I think I handled it very well.

(6) In first trimester I think I was more relaxed because I had more free time. now between school, rugby, H-H & band I'm barely doing or getting sleep, so I think physically I'm more tired but mentally I think I'm more positive than I was in September.

(7) Well I took advantage of the one sheet of notes everytime it was offered but I think I worked hardest on the final because I went back through and read everything from the beginning to the end to really remember the material (or the genocide writing one).

(8) I think I deserved the grade I got. I think I did really well, and throughout the tri I maintained one of the highest grades. I think my grade showed what I put in, like 17 pages of notes and I think maybe my grade would have been higher were I not getting a B on a quiz. But over all I think I observed the A I got.

① I did enjoy most the lessons besides the Genocide. My favorite lesson of this global Studies was learning about the middle east. I like how you taught things out better, and taught us things that will help us in the future. Something I think you should work on is less long videos. This class was well taught and I think I would give you, A B+.

(2) Something I will take from this class is text book notes because it will be helpful later on in life.

(3) Some challenges I faced in this class was keeping my grade up. Keeping my grade up was my main problem because my goal was to at least get a A- but got short at a B. This is different from one other class.

(4) Something I would like to see different is more seating changes because there could be people not getting along, and it could be nice to see a change because you could be able to meet new people. Another problem that could be changed is less lectures because it can get really boring. and some kids could fall asleep or loose interest.

(5) I have been trying my best most of the year, I think I could have done better. I think if I put more

- hours into my work I could have gotten my grade up to an A. this tri I took school and my work more seriously. in my last global studies I got the same grade as this tri.
- ⑥ At the beginning of this tri I saw the world about the same with a little different. if you want something you have to work for it, it doesn't just come to you. I see I have a better future than I thought I would have at the beginning of the tri.
- ⑦ I worked hard on Africa because it was a lot more intense than other lessons.
- ⑧ I think I got a B+ to A-. I thought my participation was good, a little off topic in some areas. this class was a positive.

- ① Yes I enjoyed all of the lessons we went through as a class. My favorite lesson was when we were learning about Africa and the Rwanda Genocide. Something I never knew happened until this class. I enjoyed watching the video/movie about the Genocide. I think I learned a fair amount of how maybe the Africans felt while we played Guns, Guns, Guns. Super fun by the way and educational. Yes as a teacher I liked that you put the objectives for the day on the board. I actually enjoyed the lectures. I think they will help me in college in a few years. The textbook notes were also a good assignment to do, even if it took a lot of writing. I feel they helped me on the tests, rather than just being given a fill in the blank sheet like I got from my Global B teacher. I retained the facts from the textbook notes and could study them. You in my opinion would get an A for a grade. I looked forward to this class in the morning.
- ② I think I will take the information I learned about North Korea, China and the Rwanda Genocide, and Africa. Before I didn't know there was about 10,000 different African tribes in Africa.
- ③ Some of the challenges I faced were, writing down important information from the lectures and the textbook notes. I feel I was more challenged in this class than I was in Global A.
- ④ I liked this class just the way was/is. I learned a lot and enjoyed it. The textbook notes are good for retaining info, for tests and they are good to study from. The lectures are good practice and this class was the only Global Studies where I had my teacher give a lecture. The guns, guns, guns was fun and I learned more about how the Europeans interacted with the Africans. Having the oligarchy when studying China was a good way to experience how the Chinese may feel. Then the dictatorship when learning about North and South Korea could have been better, if we had a harsher dictator like Kato. Then maybe we would have felt more like the North Koreans.

(5) I think I tried to do my best but probably sometimes I didn't. Yeah I am proud of my performance throughout the trimester. Not exactly happy with how I did on some of my tests but I tried. This trimester I really tried to study more, and get my assignments in on time.

(6) No I see Africa as more suppressed or smushed. I feel bad for the 10,000 tribes that had to separate. I didn't want to think about China's government. I guess I thought they had a president or something. I am almost frustrated with the Europeans for in a way causing the Rwanda Genocide and then not helping them in every way they could. I didn't know that Pakistan was once split in East and West. I see the U.S and Europe as more greedy now for taking Africa's resources for money.

(7) I tried to work hard on the Africa test that we had.

(8) I give myself a B for participation because I didn't always really try and participate. I don't feel I had any influence on this class at all. There are many times were I wish I had maybe participated more.

① I really enjoyed most of the lessons. My favorite lesson was definitely Africa because I found everything very interesting and a lot of what we learned has stuck with me so far. My favorite was watching the movie about the Hutus and Tutsis. What you did really well was making us feel comfortable in the classroom. There were a lot of giggles and laughs but you also told us to be serious when needed. Something you need to work on is probably keeping more things exciting. Africa was super exciting with all of the standing up and moving activities we did. Try to fit more of those in the other lessons possibly. I think you were a great teacher! Grade - A.

② Something that I will take with me is learning about the Hutus and Tutsis and all of the killings that happened. That "unit" was very shocking and interesting, definitely will stick with me for a long time.

③ Some challenges that I faced were trying to stay interested in some of the lessons. In mostly Asia I was just not interested. Also, studying for the tests and writing the sheets of notes. My classes last trimester didn't allow us to do that so that was a nice change.

④ A change that I would like to see is not so many documentaries. Especially on the Three Gorges dam in China, that was extremely boring. Okay, I feel like even though the lectures helped us, sometimes you went too fast. I know that we only have limited time in class! but slowing down a little would be nice. My all time favorite thing that I did this trimester out of all of my classes was for sure the positive comments in here! Please please please find a way to do that more often because even when I was having the worst day, positive comments always cheered me up. It was the best.

⑤ I think there are definitely some things I could have done better on but for most of the things I tried my best. I am definitely proud of my performance this trimester. I knew I needed to get all A's and so far I'm pretty confident that I have achieved my goal. This trimester was definitely better than last so far. Last trimester I got an 85% in a class and that wasn't okay with me, so hopefully I do better this time. Also, last trimester I had an 89% in global until the final which brought it to a 90%. This time I was confident and steady the whole tri with an A.

⑥ I see the world so much differently now. Before, I thought that all of Africa was in poverty and hungry and poor. That is definitely not the case. There are large cities and rich people too, not just huts. Also, I knew basically nothing about Asia. Now, I know that there are many many people that live there and they deserve to be appreciated.

⑦ I worked hardest on probably one of the note sheets for one of the tests because I tried to write as much as possible.

1. I liked the way you taught in class. I learned from a person who was really smart. The lesson I remember is when we were talking about the pyramids. I really liked how you taught the lesson. The explaining was good and how you were able to make it so that you would make the pyramids were a lot better. I know you will be a great teacher. Overall I would give you a 95%.
2. A lesson I would like with me would be learning about the Hulus and Tutse. I have learn a lot with this lesson. I learn what they were like and how they were controlled. They were taught was terrible.
3. A challenge for me is this class would be my listening and speaking. I would like to be a teacher. I would get paid for it. I don't do this in other classes at all.
4. In this class some things I would like would be the way you teach. I liked the explanations, how well every concept was well taught.
5. Honestly through out all this trimester I have had hard times stressing about my grades. I didn't come to school for a week because of an illness I had. I know I can do better. I know I have the ability on doing better because I know I can do it. I got a "B" in global studies. I can do better but things happen. After seeing my grade how I know I can improve. This will help me do better and always be a good student.
6. Coming in at the beginning of our second trimester was scary. I didn't know what we were learn. I didn't know if this class was going to be, which was in between. In my world I see many things different. I'm not a very bright student. I don't like to talk when it comes to answering a question but then get over it. I know in the future I would have to. Now I'm still that quiet student but I will be able to definitely talk and answer questions still scared but I've become thinner from then than I am now.

7) I worked hard on all my test but none were now. I moved from 10 BC, but then yet again I have learn something big about our world. I know things I never did and now I know how many people are suffering now they don't have food or other things they need to live.

8) As an overall grade I would say with a D. I didn't put myself in this class. I didn't try much either. Now I know how hard this could affect me and my future. My participation wasn't that much. I didn't really care as much as I did but I realize how important it is. As an influence in this class I would say in between I didn't really talk much. I didn't like to, but overall I did get influence by a lot of people. I see how much they care and that's what I should be doing to improve myself and show what I can do. overall I would give myself a D as participating grade.

① I enjoyed the lesson very much except for some boring videos we watched, some were interesting like the Israeli vs the Pakistani people, I think. The one I liked most was probably Africa because of the guns, guns, guns game also the movie was very interesting and a bit helpful. The lessons were taught really well and planned out and the lecture were a smart thing to prepare us, I think that was what helped me out the most. Overall I give you an A.

⑥ I don't see the world the same as before. I see new things, like in Israel how people are fighting for their land that belonged to them years before. Also another thing I see different is how people are destroying countries like Africa and its deforestation. The population of the world will grow until it can't fit people in it anymore and how people still continue to have a lot of babies knowing the planet will overpopulate.

① Honesty I did not enjoy this class at all, the only thing I liked about this class was Guns, Guns, Guns. Guns, Guns, Guns was my favorite. I think you taught the class well but, you were a little boring so it was hard for me in particular to pay attention. To make the class more fun maybe put more activities into the lessons because I think we learn more and better by doing and it's more enjoyable. Overall I think you deserve B+ because you seemed to teach the class very well and seem to improve our test scores.

② A concept/lesson that I would take is about the tribes I think that was a great learning experience and taught me that even if someone comes in and shows you bright new shiny toys, doesn't mean you have to take them, with doing Guns Guns Guns we all have to work together as one tribe instead of killing each other.

③ Some of the challenges I faced were all of the text book notes, now I know I never did them and that's half because it took so long to do them. I think that's because I don't know how to break down the information and so I would write too much which would result to more time, now I don't know how everyone else did but maybe you should break down for us more so we/I know what to look for.

④ I liked writing down all the information off the board, because I feel like seeing you write down the information then me write it down, helped me memorize what we were learning, and I also really like the pictures the really help me visualize what was going on and help me picture everything.

⑤ I think I'm very proud of how I've done because I improved a lot over this trimester, and Global/Social Studies has not been favorite to be honest but my mom always said to me that if I try really hard I will eventually improve and I did, my mom doesn't mind what I get in this class/subject so long as I try honestly I more of a creative person who likes to write, talk, read, and draw this subject is more of my brother's thing and not mine.

⑥ I see the world mostly the same. I mean to me the world has always been kind of boring but I did notice that more parts of the world are far more modern than I thought; most places I didn't exactly expect to be. The world and past is still boring but, a lot of places in Africa kind of surprised me on some of the agriculture and culture styles.

⑧ I think I deserve the grade I got because I know I didn't do so well at the beginning but I tried and at least I passed. I know I struggle with some subjects and I always have, and that's why I'm in IEP. I've been IEP since kindergarten or something similar. I know fast thinkers differently and getting a C- is good for me and not best I can do.

① I really enjoyed the lessons that Mr. Fere taught. I have several favorites, which include the Genocide, East Asia, and the Africa units. I think as a teacher you did several things, you did really well. First off, you made sure to teach everything in different ways. You used lecture and notes, textbook notes, powerpoint presentations, interactive activities, and group activities which all of those can help each person do well and other global studies teachers didn't do that. I can't think of anything you need to work on, because you've gone above and beyond what other teachers have done for their students. I would give you an A+ overall on your teaching, because as I've already said, you went above and beyond to make sure your students were doing well in your class.

② Looking back at the course of the trimester, I'd have to say the lesson or unit I'll most take away from this class would have to be the genocide unit. I can remember everything from the genocide, and it was a topic I enjoyed to learn about.

③ My challenges in this class was getting everything done/making the time to get it all done. For example textbook notes would take me a long time to do, and I'd have other things to get done for other classes, so it really became a matter of prioritizing what I needed to get done, and what needed to be done first. I see this same problem in many other classes, so I've learned to prioritize, because it'll only get worse if I don't.

help each individual student. Also having come from a different teacher and into your class, I can say you're a much better teacher using those different learning styles. You also made each of us study by having different quizzes on smaller assignments, and only allowing ONE side of notes on a test, which I think really helped me.

(5) I think I worked and put in my best efforts into this trimester and class. I think that I can say I'm pleased with my overall grade and performance in this class, and my grade shows it. This trimester is different than others, because there was more incentives in this class, pushing me to do better than in previous classes.

(6) I for sure think there's a difference in how I view the world now and before walking into the class three months ago. I look at things in a new light now, because now I understand what's really happening in the world, or why this or that actually happened. The differences between then and now is my ability to change views. I can look at a problem one way, have a group discussion and see the same problem another way. I can't really think of similarities, because this class has really changed the way I can/a) look at things in the world.

(7) I think I worked the hardest on the final test. I worked the hardest on that test, because it required reviewing past knowledge to succeed on the overall test.

(8) I think I deserve the grade I got this trimester. That's because I worked hard, got my work done on time, and performed well on the tests. I feel like I was a positive influence on the class, I was able to answer clarifying questions for the class. If I had

- ① I very much enjoyed the Learning especially when you add an Activity name or video. My favorite lesson was probably about the Middle East because much of the world news came from that part of the world and we don't know anything about it. Some things you did very well was used the website so we could study in time and you taught us to right good and helpful notes. I can't really think about the things you could work on because everything you did was very helpful material. An overall grade I would give you an A+! good job Mr. Fiske.
- ② I think what I will take with me is the information from the conflicts in Africa, Israel, India and in North Korea because I hear a lot of rumors about the conflicts occurring there and now I know some real facts to be able to set some people straight.
- ③ some challenges for me was just the fact it's 1st period and I'm really tired so I can't really participate as much as I would love to. some things that helped me with that problem was waking up to a sunny day and for some reason that makes me more active and alive.
- ④ Like I said I wouldn't take any change or maybe one thing and that's the notes about all the subregions of Africa. I just seemed like a long and into a time-consuming process. On the other side the study guides are very clear and useful. Also the way you taught us how to use notes like the way is helpful in college is very organized, I can take a little time but still get up to the grade I am now.
- ⑤ This trimester was one of the hardest I tried throughout those past trimesters and even to middle school. I am very proud of this trimester and know my parents are too. I did well last time in global studies but I think the class and I learned a whole lot about the world in one trimester.

⑥ This is a hard one because I didn't know much then so I didn't really think of anything specific. But there are a lot of things I see differently about Africa because that's the only part of the world that was only poverty, but now there are many wealthy cities and roads and technology. So that's definitely one thing I look differently on.

⑦ I think there was a lot on the media east or something I can remember. I had one day and I wrote the most boring or one sentence I ever did. The letters were long and I was sitting in my room for hours.

⑧ I think I deserved at least an A because I really worked hard but I'm not complaining about my nice looking B+. My participation was the best, I'm sure I did it better anyone and my participation grade I would give myself a B+.

① the lessons were good and the presentation was outstanding. My favorite lesson was Africa because it was very interesting to learn about and very easy to learn. I did not notice anything you needed to work on, you were very skilled at teaching and very honest with your opinion. Watch for a teacher those are important qualities to have. The only thing that you need to work on is maybe going to the gym and working on your gyle arm so that if you can easily wake up any "miles" and your grade as a teacher is an easy A.

③ the only challenge that this class provided was being on time and because of that my grade dropped and it was like that for the whole year. The other classes were easier to show up and do my work.

⑥ in the Begining I was confident and I thought this class would Be easy and Simple to get through that is why I did so Bad Because I pushed in thinking I knew it all even though I knew Nothing. the way I see things today are much Different than I Did at the Begining. I use to think this class should Be as easy as global I But I was wrong. also I thought alot of stuff in the past Did Not Matter 'I' was Dead wrong. And I also use to think school was a wast of time and Now I know that it is important to know the things I know and what I will learn.

But I must say your class was one of my favorites, I wouldn't really want to change anything about it. you have the decency to often not give us huge assignments that would make us/me feel pressured, I respect that. So I guess my advice would be to keep doing what you're doing.
- ② Nothing, literally nothing, I don't think I'll be pursuing any job that this would help me with, so yea no.
- ③ None of the challenges I faced in your class had anything to do with your class, just bad timing.
- ④ The class is perfect, you don't give out too much work and your not strict but strict enough to have respect from your students.

① Yes, I did enjoy every lesson in this class. My favorite was the Africa lesson because we did the Guns, Guns, Guns activity and I thought that was pretty cool. I liked the way that you gave notes. The notes were easy, but really helpful. I don't think you need to work on anything. You were a great teacher these past two trimesters.

③ One challenge I had was the Africa test. I totally bombed it the first time I took the test and it was a difficult test. This challenge compares to my math class because I had a D in that class and I only got it up to a C so now I am going to do better next trimester.

④ I liked things just the way they were because this was my best and most favorite class this year. I liked how after some tests you would put us in small groups to go over the questions and discuss some of the answers. I also liked how discripted you were when giving notes to the class.

⑤ No, I haven't. I did very bad in math class, but in every other class I worked hard a lot of the time. I am proud of my performance this trimester. This trimester is way better than last trimester because I had way better grades than last time and I am proud about that.

You were good at keeping the lessons fun and having us focus. The only you need to work on is to have more positive comments. You have earned a A- in my evaluation.
- ② I will take the lesson that imperialism can change an area for centuries and have devastating affects.
- ③ The biggest challenge in the class was all of the notes, I am not used to doing that many notes.
- ④ I don't think that things need to change, they were fine just the way they were because it was easy to stay focused and you made learning fun.
- ⑤ I haven't done my best throughout the whole trimester. I just didn't work hard enough. If I could do it again I would work harder and get an A.
- ⑥ I used to see some places as very poor and desert like but they aren't as bad as I thought. Other places I thought were very rich and nice but it is extremely polluted and has lots of poverty.
- ⑦ I worked the hardest on the Final because I had to remember everything we learned throughout the trimester.

① Yes I did enjoy some of the lessons and the reason why I say some is because most of this stuff I already learned from middle school but, your lessons were really fun and kept me awake and you didn't have us do as many textbook notes as my teachers did in middle school and I thank you for that. my favorite was China because I take a Chinese class later now and it made me want to learn more about it because it kept me interested in the lesson. You did really well at keeping me awake with all of new ways to keep the class awake when you noticed we were tired and going into sports I will remember to stay awake especially with me doing sports and other after school activities. I think you had to work on when some students are stressing that you check on them and see if they need help because they might be afraid to talk to you or from just really shy about talking to teachers. to me I give you an A+ as your overall Grade because you helped me when I asked for it or I wasn't here for that lesson.

③ taking notes by a due date and getting ready for notebook checks and many obstacles like working in groups and not being afraid to speak up when you need to like when asking how you get that and asking other questions like for help in groups or even asking the teacher for help.

④ I wish we did more positive comments because later in the day I would write the best of peers in other classes positive comments and I like seeing my peers happy so it really helps me get through today because I know I gave something back. But other than that I liked how it was because you are the best Global Studies teacher I've ever had because your explanations really help me understand what was happening in the lesson/concept we were learning about.

⑤ You know what I think I could have tried a little bit more because I think it would have helped me understand a lot more this trimester, I'm proud but I think I could have tried a little bit harder because I've noticed when it comes to homework I'm not very good at turning it in or remembering to do it and I think if I tried just a little bit harder I could have gotten a better grade in this class than I have. I liked this trimester so far the best because I like all my teachers and they've helped me to be the best potential and more greatest.

⑥ I was at the beginning of the trimester a tall blonde boy who's going in with a good attitude like yes I'm going to pass this class and I did try my best.

① YES!, because you made it more exiting and fun and in your teaching experience as a global studies teacher you are the best. All of them was my favorite the lessons you taught were fun and exiting. Yes you did a very good job as a teacher you did a very good job at group work and letting students express them selfs and if you couldn't tell the way you teach your class it also reflects on your family and ~~you~~ bet when your kid is in highschool you can teach ~~your~~ your kid what you have learned and I hope your kid becomes as smart as you or even better. NO, You did great you deserve an A.

The lesson of the middle east because of I might be going over there soon. The challenge was staying on task and this class has ~~has~~ taught me that. Even though there are less challenges in this class my other classes are more challenging than this.

Different seating nothing else. Be cause you were very organized and did your job very well. Not entirely, I got lazy and didn't want to do my work. No, I didn't do all of my work and I didn't do a good job at getting a good grade. It was long and very boring. No, because I didn't think there would be this much poverty and bad government and I didn't think North Korea would be so secretive. There was alot of poverty and now there isn't as much.

- I enjoyed the lessons, my particular favorites ~~are~~ were the ones on China and North Korea. I find myself liking these because of the Oligarchy and dictator that were ~~not~~ chosen to have us to ~~learn~~ ^{better} get a feeling on how it is in these two countries. The only thing I can think of a schedule for ~~the~~ positive comments so that when ever there is a chance of free time you ~~it~~ won't be bombarded with questions of if we can do positive comments. So like on every other Tuesday you set aside some class time, or some thing like that. It's a suggestion but besides that you get an ~~A~~ ^{A++} for your amazing lectures ~~and~~ and interactive lessons.
- Some thing that I will take from this class is that North Korea is known as the Hermit Kingdom. I will also ~~take~~ ^{remember} ~~the~~ ~~fact~~ that I dubbed N. Korea's Supreme Leader(s) the Supreme Hermit(s).
- I came back later into the year so I had to get my grades up from Failing and I only just got bumped up to a C (from F) by the Final. Mean while I stopped failing my other classes 2 weeks after I got back.
- Every thing is amazing besides positive comments, or how often we do them, so like I said in #1, ~~you~~ ^{I believe} you should add a specific day when we do ~~not~~ positive comments. ~~and that this is not a time then~~ Besides that your lectures are easy to understand and interactive, same with your lessons and worksheets. Projects have an Element of fun while being educational. You earned your A, Mr. Foster.
- I am not particularly proud of this trimester, between family problems, ~~and~~ coming back late it sucked. There is my worse ~~semester~~ ^{semester} ~~grade~~ ^{grade} book wise. ~~I~~ I got 2 A's 2 B's and a C. Now that may not seem bad but I'm I believe a 4.0 ^(for honor roll) ~~student~~ ^{student}, or a straight ~~A~~ ^A student with ~~B's~~ here and there.

It is hard to compare to something you do not remember.
- ⑦ I would have to say the Middle East test I believe, I never write notes for test taking, but for this one I did because I wanted to get a good score (I probably would have gotten anyway, but I ~~needed~~ needed to be sure and wrote about 2 paragraphs of notes.

① I really enjoyed the lessons for Global Studies B. I think my favorite lesson is when we were learning about the religions because I knew a lot about Christianity, some about the Jews, and almost nothing about Islam. The things our teacher did really well was explaining things, making sure we understood what we were learning, and for me personal, I could tell that he wanted to be here, and when someone wants to be here that makes me want to be here and excited to go to my first period class. I don't think that there is anything that he should work on. The overall grade that I give him is an A++++++.

③ I think some of challenges that I had was when I was part of the Oligarchic committee because it forced me to talk to people that wouldn't blink twice about me not being friends with them, or even thinking about talking to me. All of my other classes don't really do that (aside from Math) when something happens. It kind of felt good that they were talking to me, even if they had to.

④ The only change that I would like to see is the way the desks are set up. I don't like it, and it makes me feel like I am getting in people's way, and that I have no room to do what I need to. I think it would also be a nice change for the classroom as well. I am pretty sure I am not the only one who doesn't like the way the classroom is setup. I heard that the teacher doesn't like the way the desks are set up, but I am pretty sure it is for different reasons (or mostly different reasons). The other reason I don't like the way it is setup is because it is hard to see the board for notes, and some times a map.

(5) Yes I have been doing my best until the end, and it is my absolute best I believe. I am most definitely proud of my performance. If I had this class 6 years ago I would be at either an F or a D right now. This semester is different because all my other years in school my favorite class was English because I got to read (I love reading), now I just added to new favorite classes to the list. This class, and my French class. This is my first favorite because the teacher (Mr. Fiske) explains things in ways that I can understand and I can tell that he genuinely wants me to do well in this class, and that is extremely encouraging for me.

(6) I see the world a bit differently now. I have always seen things but I beginning to notice them now more than ever. Like our poverty, and homelessness, all the strays, and everything good and beautiful that we as humans are destroying. It makes me wonder with all this war, and new fancy cars, and homes, businesses, and desertification if we are as superior as we crack ourselves up to be.

(7) I worked hard on all my tests but I think I worked harder on the Rwandan Genocide test because it was so hard for me to learn about people (innocent) being slaughtered.

(8) I think I deserved the B because I worked hard to get it. I think I was a positive influence on the class. I think my participation grade is probably a really high B.

My favorite lesson was in the Africa unit it was the Europeans colonizing Africa and giving people guns and bikes fighting part that was fun. I think you did lessons well and how you explain things. You need to work on getting better movies to watch and more of the roll playing things like the tribes in Africa. I would grade you a A.
- ② I will take with me how important the middle east is to our economy and why we just keep going back there to fight wars.
- ③ This class did not challenge me too much and it was not easy it was a little harder than some of my other classes.
- ④ I like how this class was for the rest of it but again the kind movies they were very boring and they sucked. I rather you give us a lesson to us than the movie or another roll play thing.
- ⑤ I tried hard the whole way in this class. This trimester was my easy one compared to my last and my next trimester. I like this class so I don't complain about going here last trimester my classes sucked so I didn't try as hard this one I did my best.
- ⑥ At the beginning of the year I looked at the world a little bit differently than now.
